And finally:- I would like to take this opportunity to say 'thank you' to all those who participated in the eucharistic procession last Sunday. In the morning I was a little unsure if it would be possible for us to make the short journey from the church to the school, as the weather had taken a turn for the worst. However, with the children of our school dressed in the Holy Communion finery, and with the sun shining, we made this great act of witness to our faith. It was wonderful to see cars stopping and the residents on Weston Crescent coming out from their houses to watch as we passed by. As we walked down Weston Crescent I heard one lady say 'Oh how beautiful, I have never seen anything like this before' – and this is the reason for doing what we did. Each Sunday, and every time we come to Mass, we are called, having received the Lord into our hearts and souls, to take Him out into the world, witnessing to our faith by our words and actions, so that others may encounter Him, and by encountering Him come to know Him.

May God bless and protect you all. Fr. Craig
